*Jolly Goat Ironworks:
Quilt and Fabric Arts
Wrought Iron Hangers*

Mike Blair, owner and founder of Jolly Goat Ironworks has been in the ironsmith trade since he was 15. He was a welder in the Navy and worked in the iron industry for several years.

He has combined his love for ironsmithing with a need many quiltmakers have: hanging up a masterpiece quilt with something that is just as beautiful.

The quilt hangers are made to be easy to use: Simply slide the bar through the quilt sleeve and hang on a wall hook.

All pieces are powder-coated, an environmentally friendly way to create a durable finish. No solvents are released into air as are with paints.

Due to the handcrafted nature of the hangers, there will be slight variations in each one.
